

Dr Tyra Smyth

Tyra Smyth is a GP currently practising as a locum in Lanarkshire. She has been sitting on LMCs since her registrar days in Glasgow in 2003, joining Lanarkshire LMC in 2007. In addition to her roles as sessional representative and Medical Secretary of Lanarkshire LMC, Tyra is one of our representatives to the Scottish General Practitioners' Committee. We struggled to get a photo of her not eating and drinking- she cleared the table before this one.
